

DUE DILIGENCE ASSESSMENTS

Galt Environmental specialises in all aspects of environmental due diligence assessments. Our due diligence assessments assist clients by providing information on potential environmental risks associated with real estate transactions. These include contamination, asbestos issues and compliance.

Together with our sister company Galt Geotechnics, we are ideally positioned to offer a broad range of due diligence services offering our clients fully integrated assessment of all potential subsurface issues. By using Galt's services, our clients can be guaranteed that their due diligence report will cover all environmental and geotechnical aspects in one document as well as providing a detailed set of recommendations in plain English that are fully integrated across both disciplines to ensure the most cost-effective outcome for the client.

We have completed a wide range of due diligence assessments for a variety of clients including prospective purchasers, developers, municipal councils and government departments. In addition, Galt regularly works with our clients' financial and legal advisors.
